

PRMES Disclaimer

Perinatal Risk Management and Education Services, LLC (hereinafter "PRMES") is solely responsible for the content of this web site.

PRMES, through this web site and through education, lecturing and consulting services, strives to provide quality consulting and/or perinatal education with a risk management focus. As is the case in any scientifically-oriented profession, professional opinions may vary. PRMES respects the scientifically-supported professional opinions of other consultants, authors, educators and other professionals in the field of perinatal obstetrics and welcomes an open public dialogue of the same.

None of the content found on this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES is meant to ridicule, mischaracterize, defame, vilify, discredit or damage the reputation of any other professional. Any interpretation by anyone that the content found on this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES does ridicule, mischaracterize, defame, vilify, discredit or damage the reputation of any other professional is mistaken and liability by PRMES for such an interpretation is hereby disclaimed.

None of the content found on this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES is meant to imply that the work or services of any other professional is inferior, should not be relied upon or should be shunned. Any interpretation by anyone that the content found on this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES does imply that the work or services of any other professional is inferior, should not be relied upon or should be shunned is mistaken and liability by PRMES for such an interpretation is hereby disclaimed.

Any malice, including actual malice, imputed to a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES is mistaken and any liability therefor is hereby disclaimed. PRMES hereby explicitly reserves the qualified privilege of a professional, including but not limited to one in the field of perinatal obstetrics, to give a professional opinion based on professional experience, publications, scientific evidence and/or research.

To the extent that any of the content found on the PRMES web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES is contrary to the professional opinions of any other party, PRMES disclaims any liability that might arise from those differences. PRMES specifically disclaims any claims for libel or slander that might arise from the discussion of the professional opinions of other consultants, authors, educators and other professionals, particularly in the field of perinatal obstetrics, either on this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES.

The links to external web sites found on the PRMES website do not signify an endorsement by the owners or operators of those external web sites of PRMES.

The aforementioned external web sites were not created by and are not maintained by PRMES. PRMES is not responsible for the content of any of said external web sites. Any liability associated with said external web sites is hereby disclaimed. Any liability associated with PayPal or the use of PayPal services through this web site is hereby disclaimed.

Any information entered by a party accessing this web site and thereby collected by PRMES becomes the sole property of PRMES and any claim against PRMES for the use of said information is waived by the party entering said information. Said aforementioned information includes but is not limited to any information entered into the "Comments & or Questions" dialogue box on this web site. Information collected in any manner described in this paragraph may be used by PRMES in any manner that it sees fit, including but not limited to the republication of said information without notice or compensation or the use of said information in a mailing or contact database. By entering an address, phone number or e-mail address, the party accessing this page and entering said address, phone number or e-mail address thereby assents to the receipt of information or solicitation from PRMES via said address, phone number or e-mail address. Any additional liability associated with any information collected by PRMES through this web site not already mentioned herein is hereby disclaimed.

Any liability associated with the misuse or incorrect use of the Miller's ReadRight EFM Ruler (hereinafter "Ruler") is hereby disclaimed. The Ruler is limited in use as an assistive aid in reading Fetal Monitors by licensed professionals and is not a substitute for professional training and education on the correct methods of reading Fetal Monitors. Any reliance on the accuracy of the Ruler resulting in liability for the party using the Ruler does not create a cause of action against PRMES. By purchasing a Ruler through this web site, the purchaser specifically agrees to and understands the terms of this paragraph. By purchasing a Ruler from PRMES in any manner besides through this web site, the purchaser is bound by the terms of this paragraph.

In no way will any communication by way of this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation by PRMES between any party and PRMES, including Lisa Miller, President of PRMES, constitute the creation of an attorney-client relationship. Ms. Miller is a non-practicing attorney and her services through PRMES are limited in such a manner that legal advice is hereby disclaimed as a service of PRMES. Any liability arising from communication by PRMES by way of this web site or in the context of a speech, teaching or consultation that is relied upon as legal advice from an attorney by any party is hereby disclaimed.

This Disclaimer is hereby incorporated into the Terms of Use for this web site. In the event of any conflicting terms between this Disclaimer and the Terms of Use, the Terms of Use governs. This Disclaimer is subject to change without notice. Any party accessing this web site is bound by and hereby assents to the terms and conditions of this Disclaimer by virtue of that party accessing this web site. To the extent that any portion of this Disclaimer is found to be invalid, void or inconsistent with applicable law, only that portion loses its effect and the remainder of this Disclaimer stays in effect. The term "PRMES" as used herein refers to Perinatal Risk Management and Education Services, LLC, its employees, agents and officers. All rights not specifically detailed herein are hereby reserved.
